INDEX TO VOLUME XIV.*

A

Academy of Sciences, National, meeting at Baltimore, 468.
Aerodynamics, experiments in, Langley, 318 : André, 398.
Alpen, die, im Eiszeitalter, Penck and Brückner, 315.
André, M. H., Les Dirigibles, 398.
Association, American, meeting at Pittsburg, 166; meeting at Washington, 469.
— British, meeting at Belfast, 318.
Austin, M., double ammonium phosphates in analysis, 156.

B

Bacubirito, the great meteorite of Sinaloa, Mexico, Ward, 316.
Barbour, E. H., calcite-sand crystal, 451.
Barus, C., velocity and structure of the nucleus, 225; ionization of nuclei, 459.
Beiträge zur chemischen Physiologie und Pathologie, Hofmeister, 69, 398.
Bermuda, ascidians of, Van Name, 74.
Black Hills, laccoliths of, Jaggar, 389.
Blake, J. C., estimation of bromic acid, 285.

BOTANY.

Birches, relationships of some American and Old World, Fernald, 167.
Cyperaceæ, studies in the, Holm, No. xvi, 57; xvii, 417.
Plant growth, relation to ionization, Plowman, 129.
Böttger, W., Grundriss der qualitativen Analyse, 65.
Brewer, W. H., obituary notice of J. W. Powell, 377.
British Museum, catalogue of birds' eggs, Oates, 469.
Brown, R. M., clays of Boston Basin, 445.
Bumstead, H. A., reflection of electric waves, 359.

C

California, Cretaceous in, 33.
— Quaternary history, Hershey, 71.
— and Nevada, Triassic Ichthyopterygia from, Merriam, 467.
Cathode rays, effect of ultra-violet light on, Lenard, 67.
— laws of velocity of, Gehrcke, 67.
Chemie, Lehrbuch der Allgemeinen, Ostwald, 457.
Chemische Physiologie und Pathologie, Hofmeister, 69, 398.
Chemisches Praktikum, Wolfrum, 385.
Chemistry, Elementary, Clarke and Dennis, 305.
— First Book of Qualitative, Prescott and Sullivan, 65.

CHEMISTRY.

Ammonium phosphates in analysis, Austin, 156.
Ammonium vanadate, precipitation, Gooch and Gilbert, 205.
Arsenic in animal organism, Bertrand, 383.
Bismuth, radio-active, Marckwald, 303.
— lead sulphide-halides, Ducatte, 64.
Bromic acid, estimation of, Gooch and Blake, 285.
Carbon, transformation into diamond, Ludwig, 455.
— compounds, solubilities of, Speyers, 293.
— dioxide, action on the borates of barium, Jones, 49.
Chemical combinations, probable source of heat, Richards, 64.
Copper sulphate, action upon iron meteorites, Farrington, 33.
Glass, plasticity and adhesiveness of, Piccard, 456.
Helium and liquid hydrogen, Dewar, 305.
Hydrogen, liquid, and helium, Dewar, 305.
— and oxygen, combination, Baker, 383; vapor-pressures of liquid, Travers, Senter and Jaquerod, 311.

* This Index contains the general heads, BOTANY, CHEMISTRY (incl. chem. physics), GEOLOGY, MINERALS, OBITUARY, ROCKS, and under each the titles of Articles referring thereto are mentioned.

CHEMISTRY.

Iodine pentafluoride, Moissan, 456.
Lithium silicide, Moissan, 64.
Manganese, separation from magnesium, etc., Dietrich and Hassel, 456.
Matter, heatless condition of, Brinkworth and Martin, 304.
Nitric acid, titrimetric estimation, Phelps, 440.
Oxygen and hydrogen, vapor-pressures of liquid, Travers, Senter and Jaquerod, 311; combination, Baker, 383.
Radium, atomic weight, Curie, 384.
Rocks in the Nile cataracts, black color of, Lortet and Hagounenq, 64.
Silver chabazite and silver analcite, Steiger, 31.
Thallium in the thallous state, Thomas, 385.
Thermochemical constant, Clarke, 303.
Thiocyanates, double and triple, Wells, 384.
Thiocyanic acid, iodometric titration, Thiel, 455.
Uranium, atomic weight, Richards and Merigold, 65.
Vanadic acid, reduction of, Gooch and Stookey, 369.

Clarke, F. W., Elementary Chemistry, 305.
Coleman, A. P., nepheline and other syenites in Ontario, 147.
Colorado, Silverton quadrangle, economic geology of, Ransome, 390.
Connecticut, Barkhamsted, essonite and corundum at, Emerson, 234.
— extent of Newark System, Hobbs, 71.
— ice sheet in Pomperaug valley, Hobbs, 399.
— Tungsten mine at Trumbull, Hobbs, 72.
Cornwall, H. B., greenockite on calcite from Joplin, Missouri, 7.
Crook, Z. E., electromagnetic alternating currents, 133.
Cross, W., Chemico-mineralogical Classification of Igneous Rocks, 461.
Crystallography, solution of problems in, Renfield, 249.
Cumings, E. R., variation in the fossil brachiopod, Platystrophia lynx, 9.

D

Davis, W. M., terraces of the Westfield River, Mass., 77; Elementary Physical Geography, 318.
Dennis, L. W., Elementary Chemistry, 305.
Dewar, J., liquid hydrogen and helium, 305.
Dirigibles, Les, André, 398.
Dresser, J. A., contribution to the geology of Quebec, 43.
Drude, P., Theory of Optics, 68.

E

Earthquake of 1901 at Inverness, and at Carlisle, Davison, 397.
Electric conductibility of metals, Strutt, 459.
— discharges through gases, role of self-induction in, Eginitis and de Gramont, 68.
— displacement, magnetic effect, Whitehead, 109.
— resistance of glass, quartz, etc., Rood, 161.
— sparks, influence of electrification of the air on, Lecher, 386.
— waves, interference, tubes for, Becker, 67.
— — magnetic detector for, Marconi, 386.
— — reflection of, Bumstead, 359.
Electricity, removal of negative from the air by rain, Schmauss, 387.
Electrolytes, free ions in aqueous solutions of, Olsen, 237.
Electromagnetic alternating currents, Crook, 133.
Electromotive force of ozone, Brand, 386.
Electrostatic tubes, de Nicolaiéve, 386.
Emerson, B. K., corundum and a graphitic essonite, 234.
Emerson, J. S., characteristics of Kau, 431.
Ethnology, Bureau of American, annual report 1901, 470.
Evans, N. N., new occurrence of native arsenic, 397.

F

Farrington, O. C., action of copper sulphate upon iron meteorites, 38.
Fernald, M. L., relationships of some American and Old World birches, 167.
Fisher, C. A., calcite-sand crystal, 451.

Ford, W. E., chemical composition of dumortierite, 426.
Forest Reserves, U. S., Gannett, 70.

G

Gesteinskunde für Techniker, etc., Rinné, 463.
Gibbs, J. W., Elementary Principles in Statistical Mechanics, etc., 69.
Gilbert, R. D., precipitation of ammonium vanadate, 205.
Girty, G. H., upper Permian in western Texas, 363.
Glass, plasticity and adhesiveness of, Piccard, 456.

GEOLOGICAL REPORTS AND SURVEYS.

Iowa, 1901, Calvin, 391.
Kansas, 461.
Louisiana, 314.
Michigan, Lane, 393.
United States, 21st annual report, 70, 389, 461.

GEOLOGY.

Alkaline rocks from the region of Ampasindava, Lacroix, 396.
Alpen, die, im Eiszeitalter, Penck and Brückner, 315.
Carboniferous ferns, Sellards, 195.
Clays of the Boston Basin, Brown, 445.
Cretaceous outliers in California, Hershey, 33.
— turtles, Wieland, 95.
Crossotheca and Myriotheca, fronds of, Sellards, 195.
Dikes in Syracuse, New York, eruptive, Schneider, 24; petrography of, Smyth, 26.
Economic geology, Silverton quadrangle, Col., Ransome, 390.
Eocene Mammalia in the Marsh collection, studies of, Wortman, 17.
Eparchæan interval, Lawson, 71.
Eruption of Mt. Pelee, 312, 319; peculiar character of, Verrill, 72.
Eskers, origin of, Crosby, 316.
Fossil brachiopod, Platystrophia lynx, variation in, Cumings and Mauck, 9.
— plant from Illinois, Sellards, 203.
— vertebrata of North America, bibliography and catalogue, Hay, 390.
Geologic formation names of North America, Weeks, 391.
Geology of Quebec, contribution to, Dresser, 43.
Ice-sheet, action of, on projecting rock masses, Hobbs, 399.
Idiophyllum rotundifolium, validity of, Sellards, 203.
Igneous rocks, chemico-mineralogical classification, Cross, Iddings, Pirsson and Washington, 461.
— — size of grain in, Queneau, 70; Lane on Queneau, 393.
Laccoliths of the Black Hills, Jaggar, 389.
Lowlands of southeastern Missouri, evolution of, Marbut, 392.
Mammalia, Eocene in Marsh collection, 17.
Monzoni region in the Tyrol, petrography and geology, Romberg and Doelter, 463.
Newark system, former extent of, Hobbs, 71.
Niagara limestones of Indiana, Kindle, 221.
Permian, upper, in western Texas, Girty, 363.
Platystrophia lynx, variation in the fossil brachiopod, Cumings and Mauck, 9.
Pleistocene geology of western New York, Fairchild, 393.
Plissements et dislocations de l'écorce terrestre en Grèce, Negris, 71.
Potomac group of the middle Atlantic slope, geology, Clark and Bibbins, 392.
Quaternary history of southern California, Hershey, 71.
Rocks in the Nile cataracts, black color of, 64.
Terraces of the Westfield River, Mass., Davis, 77.
Triassic Ichthyopterygia from California and Nevada, Merriam, 467.
Vertebrates of the Northwest Territory, Osborn and Lambe, 393.
Volcanic eruptions of 1902 on St. Vincent and Martinique, 72, 312; Hovey, 319.
Volcanoes, Hawaiian, Kau, Emerson, 431.
Gooch, F. A., precipitation of ammonium vanadate, 205; estimation of bromic acid, 285; reduction of vanadic acid, 369.
Grundriss der qualitativen Analyse, Böttger, 65.

H

Havana, study of yellow fever in, Gargas, 75.
Hawaii, the volcano of Kau, Emerson, 431.
Hershey, O. H., Cretaceous outliers in California, 33.
Hillebrand, W. F., additions to the Alunite-Jarosite group, 211.
Hobbs, W. H., action of ice-sheet on projecting rock masses, 399.
Hodgkins gold medal awarded, 470.
Hofmeister, F., Beiträge zur chemischen Physiologie, 69, 398.
Holm, T., studies in the Cyperaceæ, No. xvi, 57; xvii, 417.
Holtz machine, new, Wommelsdorf, 459.
Hovey, E. O., eruptions of 1902 on St. Vincent and Martinique, 319.
Hydrogen, spectra of, Trowbridge, 457.
